
ADRENALINA

INTRODUCTION

Adrenalina is a global beverage and nutrition brand creation company specializing in the development of innovative food, drink, and supplement products. From concept to market launch, Adrenalina designs, formulates, and builds powerful consumer brands across energy drinks, juices, coffee, functional beverages, and nutritional supplements.

Driven by creativity, science, and market insight, Adrenalina transforms ideas into high impact products that stand out on shelves and connect with modern consumers. The company focuses on developing unique beverage concepts, bold branding, and high quality formulations that redefine the food and beverage industry.

With a portfolio of distinctive brands such as Code Mix, High Roller, Morra, Billionergy, Chillai, ToonyPop, True Blood, and Bluai, Adrenalina brings together innovation, flavor, and lifestyle branding to create products that energize markets worldwide.

THE STORY OF ADRENALINA

Adrenalina was born from a simple idea: the beverage world needed more creativity, more identity, and more excitement. Instead of producing ordinary drinks, Adrenalina set out to create brands with personality each one telling its own story and targeting a specific lifestyle, From the adventurous energy of Code Mix, to the premium luxury concept of Billionergy, to the refreshing lifestyle vibe of Chillai, every brand in the Adrenalina portfolio is crafted to capture a unique consumer experience.

Each product is carefully developed through a process that combines product innovation, flavor science, packaging design, and market strategy. The result is a collection of dynamic beverage brands designed to compete globally while maintaining strong brand identities. Adrenalina continues to expand its brand universe, introducing new concepts that push the boundaries of the modern beverage and nutrition industry.

VISION

To become a global leader in innovative beverage and nutritional brand creation, shaping the future of food and drink with bold concepts, premium quality, and powerful brand identities.
